A Blessed Summer

As this Summer went on, we became increasingly busy with our church. We had some opportunities to rest but the work for the Lord never ends.

July 4th celebration

This year on July 6th, after our Sunday service, we had our combined Independence Day celebration with Maranatha Baptist Church, the hearing church whom we rent the building from. Many people from both churches came and we had a lot of food and fellowship. I spent a lot of my time cooking on the grill for over seventy people! But I enjoyed every minute of it. Since it was after the 4th, I was able to grab some fireworks for half price! We lit them up in the street near church. Of course, we wait for cars to pass us by first.

My deaf older brother, Jim, came to the party, but not to the church service. It was his first time visiting our church building. After looking around outside, he told me that “You did a good job.” He is not the type to give out compliments so that meant a lot to me. He is not saved, so please pray for the Holy Spirit to work in his heart.

Outreach

We continued with our monthly men’s/women’s fellowship and youth nights. We tend to see our biggest groups of unsaved people come to those events. We give out a devotion each time giving out an encouragement for Christians while giving the lost an opportunity to become saved. Please pray for them.

Sermons and Sunday School

During this time there was a lot of preaching on leaning on the Lord and becoming spiritually minded. I’m able to see the impacts of God’s Word on our people as they consistently devour everything. We just finished a long series on church doctrine lasting for about 4 months for Sunday school. After that, we talked about various Bible words that are uncommonly used. I also taught a series on what the Bible says about eating meat. At the very end of that, I explained how meat restrictions were dissolved in the New Testament because the focus is on spreading the Gospel, no matter where it goes nor the kind of people it meets and then finished it off with showing a few videos (as my wife interpreted) people eating various kinds of meat from around the world. I might have overkilled that one since a few people lost their appetites.

Prayer Requests

- For me to have wisdom and strength to continue leading our church.
- For us to reach lost deaf souls in and around Philadelphia to become saved and grow in the Lord.
- For our people to continue to come and learn.
